Dec. 5, 1918.

My dear Good Friend -

I got in here from Spain last night and you can imagine my feelings now having just read your splendid letter of Dec. 2nd and the formal letter in regard to my returning home. Really I am pretty nearly wild. I was happy enough at getting out of Spain but to have that topped off with such news from you is just too wonderful for expression.

I know I have you to thank for such good news and having always been indebted to you, I am now indebted for life. May the opportunity for me to repay you in some way for all you have done for me arise, that is my wish.

You can never conceive what I was up against down in Spain. All I can say is that it was the most disagreeable experience I have ever had in all my life.

As requested in my wire of today I hope you will have my orders to read via Tours as all of my equipment is there and besides I want to see you again. I hope you will shortly be able to follow behind me. It would indeed be splendid if we could go together.

Enclosed are some forms duly filled out.

Again thanking you for your many kindnesses to me and hoping to see you very very soon,
O.K. Thomas Atkinson Jr.

Always sincerely,
