

My dear Aunt Eleanor - How is it this a fine Sunday Evening? The wind is blowing a regular hurricane - rain and they say "is will be colder than all yet out by morning - after Easter Sunday's blizzard I was in hopes that Spring "had come" - but no wonder the west appeals to me.
So much for the weather - next I want to ask "you all" if there will be any ~~preachers~~ in your country - They are all supposed to be dead.

in this part of the country and all other fruits - and we are all out of every kind of fruit and I wanted to fill up my fruit closet this fall if we stay in this country - You spoke of moving - when school is out. Where are you moving too? - Mama has been real sick - had one of those spells with her bowels - They got so sore that I fear some time they will be perforated - She is better now and does not want to come home just yet - In fact I think she has a bug in her bonnet - I think she wants to stop in Detroit for the summer - and it will be a lovely place for her to spend the summer - I can remember when Avery was interested in bird Lore - he had a fine collection of bird eggs - and kept them in an old wooden up in the cheese house attic - I wish you would send me some Kalamazoo of the boys - I get awfully homesick to see them - we have to move in another week - Leharder's called up last week and want us to take their house again this summer - I suppose we will, as it is the "cheapest" and in fact all the place we can consider - and it is a cool house in the summer. We have been trying to rent a vacant house & get our furniture but that is almost impossible.

Mrs. C. nice wash all her curtains and I am going to get all my own mats and put down our hers - if we take their place - The houses are renting (furnished) for 65-75-
